New Courses Listed For Coming Term

Twenty credit courses which were not given at OCE this term are on the new winter term schedule, the registrar's office announced last week. Some of these are new courses and some are those which have been taught in the past and are being reopened.

Foremost among the new courses is elementary general chemistry, which will be given Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the sixth hour with a laboratory period on Thursdays.

Courses to be given winter term which are not on this term's schedule are: Geography of North America, Miss Katharine Arbuthnot; forensics and debating, G. J. Harding; the print, clay modeling and pottery, Mrs. Pearl B. Heath; boxing and basketball coaching, Robert Knox; basketball, tumbling for women and recreational games (men and women), Miss Ruth Lautenbach; lessons in voice and elementary harmony, Miss Louise Woodruff; Shakespeare II, Miss Edna Mingus; human physiology, Miss Ruth Denney.

Applied psychology, John Barr; study of the unusual child and advanced upper grade education, Miss Emma Henkle; pre-primary education, Miss Ida Mae Smith; history of western civilization (a continuation of history I), O. C. Christensen; American history and government II (continuation of history and government I), Dr. J. F. Santee; teaching elementary school science, A. C. Stanbrough; and elementary general chemistry, M. R. Thompson.

OCE Schedules Forensic Work

Beginning with the coming winter term, forensics will actually become a definite part of the OCE schedule. It is planned to conduct debate, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and other types of forensic work as part of class routine.

A class is tentatively scheduled for the fifth period on Tuesdays and Thursdays next term. Three hours will be allowed but it must be kept in mind that both winter and spring term must be taken to obtain the three hours. This is a similar plan used in other colleges of this state, in order that credit may be given and that forensics

SEASON GREETINGS FROM ASOCE

As the curtain is drawn on the first term of this school year I wish to express my thanks to all OCE students for their splendid cooperation.

We faced the problems of renovation and readjustment of our campus life and activities at the beginning of this term and, with your help, we have had success in solving this problem. We have not achieved all our goals but we are now aware of the problems confronting us and with your continued cooperation and participation in student affairs we will be more successful in the future.

I wish each one of you a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

See you next term, — AL THIESSEN,
ASOCE President.

Faculty Member Mourned by OCE

Miss Eloise E. Buck, a former teacher in the English department at OCE, was one of the many who lost their lives early Saturday, Dec. 7, in the fire that swept the Winecoff hotel in Atlanta, Georgia. Miss Buck was on the local campus from 1932 to 1942.

Miss Buck, who lived in New York, was employed by the Katherine Gibbs Secretarial school and went South on a speaking tour on November 15. The day before the fire she spoke at the Agnes Scott college in Decatur, Georgia, a suburb of Atlanta. She declined an invitation of the college to stay at the alumnae house, and took a reservation at the Winecoff hotel.

ASOCE Council Lists Activities

The effects of work carried on this term by the student council have been felt throughout the campus. The opening of the "rec. hall" for dancing was one of its accomplishments early in the term, and this new feature of student body life is enjoyed by many of its members.

An assembly was presented by the student council members recently for the purpose of acquainting students with the functions of its government.

In addition to this, mention should be made of the fine job the council members have done in their regular duties which include such things as the promotion of a bigger athletic program, planning the budget for the 1946-47 school year, appointing the editor of the Lamron, deciding on admission prices to games, and granting permission for social events.

Wedding Plans Made by Students

Fall engagements around OCE are numerous with several weddings planned for the Christmas holidays.

Wedding bells will ring for Carla Hermo February 8 in the living room of Jessica Todd hall where she will be married to a former OCE student, Bob Hansmann, who was to have been Lamron editor this year. Carla's diamond is a beautiful six point Tiffany solitaire.

Popular Willie Knapp who will graduate December 18 is engaged to Ted Langton, navy veteran, who is an engineering student at OSC. They will be married in the early summer.

January 5 is the day set for the Sue Parkhurst-Bob Miller rites at Hood River. They will live in Vet's Village until Sue completes her course in March.

Marge Campbell announced her engagement to Steve Irving, president of Phi Beta Sigma, in a unique way December 9 when she gave a Christmas party in the music room for members of Staff and Key of which she is a member and for members of Collecto Coeds. Each guest was given a gift and inside was a card telling of the betrothal. The wedding is planned for summer when both will graduate, Marge from the three-year course and Steve from the degree course.

Jean Stangel, dormitory secretary, has a lovely solitaire from Francis Trusty of OSC who is transferring to Willamette university in January where he will take a law course. The wedding is planned for June.

June Pangborn, president of Collecto Coeds, and Bud Neal, a member of the Lettermen's club, are also making plans but as yet the date has not been set. Both are seniors in education.

Several men of the campus are also planning holiday weddings. Among them are Art Chapman, sophomore class president, and Bud Lee. Art will marry Delores Schild, OCE graduate, December 21, and Bud will exchange vows with Lois Kincheloe, also a graduate, December 29. Both couples will live in Vet's Village.

January 2 Set as Registration Day

Thursday, January 2, has been set aside for registration for the Winter quarter. Students who fail to complete their registration on this day will be assessed the late registration fee as follows: January 3, $1; January 4, $2; January 6, $3; January 7, $4; January 8 to 18, $5.

Students who have had their schedules approved for the winter term will find their registration envelope in the front hall of the administration building. These students should fill out their registration material and report to the main office for payment of fees and for turning in registration material.

Those students who have not pre-scheduled will report to appropriate advisers for approval of schedules. Instructions will be placed on the blackboard in the front hall as to location of advisers.

The main office will be open from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. for payment of fees and accepting of registration material. Students are urged to return early enough in the day to allow sufficient time for completing their registration by 4:30 p.m.

The Book Exchange will be open from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, January 2, for renting of textbooks.

JOIN THE CHORUS

At times this seems like a rugged old world. We toughen our hides and keep our emotions tucked in so as to protect ourselves from the thorns of disappointment and adversity, and from the bumps of other wayfarers who are hustling along the same rough, uneven trail. Then Christmas comes along and the tough world seems to mellow. We all decrease our tempo, our earnest countenances relax, a sense of good will possesses us, we smile at our fellow wayfarers, and involuntarily we join the chorus of "Merry Christmas!" which arises, not merely from the lips, but from the hearts of men.

The Christmas season has a character in addition to its significance as a Christian festival. It is our hope that it may have that significance for every student, but also that it may be for you a time of homecoming and of festive satisfactions such as old Thomas Tusser must have had in mind four centuries ago when he gave the oft quoted advice:

"At Christmas, play, and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year."

We shall be happy to have all of you back on the campus, rested and refreshed, on January 2, but in the meantime, Merry Christmas!

CHARLES A. HOWARD,
President, OCE.

Winter term will show OCE students and faculty a number of coming events which are listed below with their tentative dates.

January 4, 10, 11, 13, 29, and February 14 and 15 are listed for varsity basketball games.

There are to be three all-campus parties and a "get-acquainted" dance for all new and old students the first of next term. The all-campus parties are to be sponsored by CCYM, Inter-Varsity and the Freshman class.

Special events coming next term will be a skating party at Rick-reall, a Campfire girls' ski outing at Mount Hood, the Paul Robeson concert in Portland and a concert by the Eugene Gleemen here. In February, there will be two formal dances, the Jessica Todd hall dinner-dance, and Collecto-Coed's annual formal "Sweetheart Ball."

The week-end of January 24, has been set aside for the three-act play, "Royal Family," to be presented by the Crimson O Players.

In addition to the above-listed events, there will be several special assemblies.

Yearbook Project Gets Underway

Plans and arrangements being made for the "Grove," OCE yearbook, were reported by Carla Hermo, this year's editor. The staff has not been filled yet, and anyone who would like to work on the staff may write a letter to the student council stating experience, etc.

Photographers have been contacted for the class pictures. Both individual and group pictures will be taken.

Next term the annual staff is sponsoring a campus event in order to make money for financing the yearbook.

OUR CHRISTMAS TREE

Every Christmas season it seems to be traditional for the editor to write an editorial on the message "Peace on earth, good will to men." This season I am going to break that tradition and tell you a little story which interested me so much I want to pass it on to you. The story concerns the origin of the present day Christmas tree.

In ancient times, the Romans held a winter festival in honor of their god, Saturn, the seed-growing god. This festival, which was held on the shortest day of the year, was called Saturnalia. At these celebrations, it was customary to have trees laden with decorations and gifts.

During the Barbarian Invasions, the Goths adopted most of the Roman culture and customs, including this festival. They carried this tree custom into Germany.

The tree did not become a part of the Christmas festivities until Luther's time when it was adopted as a Christian symbol throughout Germany. As a Christian symbol, the tree, being an evergreen, depicts Christ, Who is ever-living and eternally the same.

From Germany, the Christmas tree spread into other lands and is now the most common symbol of Christmas.

SELECT THOSE RESOLUTIONS

Mr. New Year is coming up the path and trailing along behind are those new year resolutions you selected last year but did not keep. They are here to haunt you again and demand that in 1947, you stop and think before you chuck them out the window. After all, they tagged along with Mr. New Year not just to keep him company but to help push you one more rung up the oft-mentioned ladder of success.

Some of the more famous resolutions which are fighting for first place on your selected list are:

1. Resolved to apply myself to my studies next term better than I did this term.
2. Resolved to cooperate and participate in all school activities.
3. Resolved to be friendlier to my fellow students and to say "hello" on every occasion.

There are just dozens of resolutions that are clamoring to be picked. Make your selection now and, remember, they have a right to live just as we have.

BOOK REVIEWS

The book, "American Education Under Fire," written by V. T. Thayer and published by Harper and Brothers, New York, N.Y., in 1944, is one that should be read by all persons connected with education in any way.

V. T. Thayer has attempted to expound an idea that is not clear in his own mind. It is true that book titles often do not mean anything in particular, but the reader of this title will assume the implication that, as education is under fire, Thayer has some sort of answer for this problem.

Obviously, V. T. Thayer is not writing to inform, but to substantiate the stand that he and other persons have taken. On page 18, lines three and four, he says: "It thus did not occur to Plato that human impulses are a species of original sin." How can he be so sure that his point of view is superior to that of Plato?

On page 83 the problem of American education is faced a little more squarely in a quotation from Dr. Rainey. The gist of this quotation is that vocational and liberal education should be given to all, but there should be a curriculum set up to insure a carry-over from one subject to another.

The reviewer suggests that it would not be a waste of time to read the book. Education has no room for bigotry or dogmatism, so it is well to look on all sides of this education problem.

Letter To Santa

Jessica Todd Hall
December 16, 1946

Dear Santa:

All the girls at Todd hall are awaiting your arrival with eagerness, joy, and anticipation. We have been good girls this year, and know that you will reward us accordingly. Because you have been working hard all year, we thought you might need a little assistance in deciding what to bring us so we are writing this letter.

Marge Campbell would like a great big, juicy, piece of huckleberry pie.

Lois Gordon needs an umbrella, and it would be wonderful if you could possibly let Verna Smith have that agate ring she's been admiring in the window of Corber's in Portland all year.

Joanne Bolsinger wants a horse, a good G.P.A., to see Santa Claus, and on, and on, and on.

Please, dear Santa, bring Irene Adams an electric train so she can keep herself amused.

Betty ("Muffy") Seidel wants a music box that will play "Love Letters," because she likes the tune, and Connie Eykelbosch would just like a letter from Minnesota.

All Fern Huntsinger wants is a four-year scholarship, to any school of her choice, that will insure payment of all expenses and a four-point grade average every term.

Norene Mink says she would appreciate receiving an alarm clock that would make more noise than the breakfast bell, and we learned from observation that many others need the same.

All of us want this Christmas to bring joy, and fulfillment of the heart's desire to everyone, everywhere.

Thanking you in advance, we remain,

Hopefully yours,
The Girls of Jessica Todd hall

Miss Denney to Speak

Miss Ruth Denney, campus nurse, will be guest speaker at the first winter term meeting of the associated women students on Monday, January 6, in the administration building, room 212. Her topic will be "Social and Personal Hygiene."

Miss Denney's speech will give the background for a later discussion to be given by a visiting speaker.

Fashion Flashes

By LIDY LU SWOFFORD

Mr. Claus paid his respects early to three of our campus coeds this season by placing on the third finger, left hand, of each girl an illumination of love. Namely, they are June Pangborn, Susan Parkhurst, and Marge Campbell. All three engagement rings are similar in the respect that each displays one large diamond. Each diamond, however, is set to suit the desires of each particular young lady.

Depicting the part of a "Lady of Leisure" is Alice Burnett when she dons her shimmering peach satin lounging pajamas. The picture is accentuated with an up-sweep hair style fashioned in a smooth reversed roll.

Willie Knapp cuts a collegiate figure in her aqua wool suit and short-sleeved pink angora sweater. The suit is strictly sport, designed with ever-popular cardigan jacket and kick-pleat skirt. Willie follows the mode of fashion by wearing hand-knit wool anklets together with Red Cross saddles.

Something different in sweaters is being worn by Peggy Geertz. Her original is similar to the ski sweater only it is of a lighter wool and has a finer weave. Yellow and brown are strikingly combined in a unique design. Peggy follows through with a pleated yellow skirt.

Charmingly outfitted for classes is Gwen Chase in a neat gray pin-stripe wool dress. Causing many passersby to take a second look, Gwen can wear the dress for sports affairs or for semi-dress.

We have a few items on our Christmas list,
We wish for clothes, we the young miss.
Just a dress, a sweater and a skirt,
For on our back we wear our last shirt.

—!-?-!-

Jane: "I want a shorter skirt than you have shown me."

Clerk: "Have you tried the collar department?"

—!-?-!-

They went to school together,
They grew up side by side;
But he never knew he loved her
'Till her rich old uncle died!

DORM DOPE

The girls in the dorm have been very busy this past week. Practicing the program for the yule log ceremony took some time and planning. Thanks to all you girls who helped and especially to Ruth Porterfield, chairman of the event, and to Marj Rieck who conducted the singing. That was good work, girls!

Fire drills are not the best way to take daily exercise, but sometimes it may be the safest. (But not when it's two o'clock in the morning.) At least that was the opinion of some of the girls as they stood drowsily in the rain. Oh, well, it was good practice and just what we all needed!

There isn't anything as much fun as a Christmas party! The spirit of the season certainly lends its touch. The party in the dorm last night proved as much. We don't even have to have Santa Claus to help have the merriest of parties!! Mrs. Santa does very nicely!

HOWELL HOWLS

You haven't heard much from your Howell House reporter for a while, so maybe she can catch you up on all the news today.

Thank you, girls of Todd hall, for inviting us to your Christmas parties, and the lovely yule log ceremony. We enjoyed them very much. We are sorry we cannot include each of you in some of our social events.

Howell house girls had their Christmas party Saturday evening. We played games, popped corn, exchanged gifts, and then disbanded early to resume our cramming for the oncoming exams.

We are very proud of the Independent volleyball team. The girls won the tournament, you know.

We shall be sorry to lose our fire warden, Mrs. Hazel Lehman, who plans to teach next term.

A Merry Christmas to each of you!

CHRISTMAS

From out the mystic East
Where legends spring upon
The sands like founts so wild,
Exotic; and are gone,
There came a whispered song
So strange it awed the learned
And wooed the fancies of

The old, the unconcerned.
The whisper grew until
The echoes filled the years
With love and gentle songs,
And hope and joy and tears.
It did not die like those
That sprang so long before,
Because it held the dreams
That youth could not ignore.

And still the centuries
Are adding charm upon
A legend of a child
That came here like the dawn.
Perhaps the mystic East
Holds more than just a dream
For everywhere the stars
Of Christmas brightly gleam.

West House

Harold Gierloff, known to everyone on this campus as "Murph," was unanimously elected president of West House for the winter term, at the house meeting held last week. Karl Morton was elected vice-president; Leo Wilson, secretary-treasurer, and Tom Putman and Karl Morton will be the West House reporters again for the winter term.

Fall term's retiring officers are: Al Petersdorf, president; Bud Neal, vice-president; and Linn Mallett, secretary-treasurer.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from the boys at West House. We will see you next term.

Club Previews Promise Active Social Calendar

If winter term club-sponsored events are as successful as this term's have been, OCE students should have their social calendar quite filled. The agenda for some of the more active clubs on the campus for next term consists of various activities as denoted below.

SIGMA EPSILON PI

President Donna Miller of Sigma Epsilon Pi explained some of the events of next term for which the club is now making preparations. First, shortly after vacation, a post-Christmas party will be held at Miss Katharine Arbutnot's home. Given each season, the party is for all members and the evening's activities will center around a gift-exchange and a song session.

Later in the term, a student assembly and a banquet with Theta Delta Phi are planned. Also, the students who have attained the required scholastic standings will receive formal initiation into the club.

CCYM

Campus Christian Youth Movement, an active religious organization on the OCE campus, would like to welcome new members to the club.

This term CCYM has sponsored speakers of various faiths and also sponsored the World Student Service Fund, a drive for the relief of students overseas.

Besides the well-planned social schedule that is now underway for next term, the organization has begun a series of inter-faith speakers which also will be continued extensively next term.

To begin the New Year right, CCYM is planning a party in which folk dancing will be the feature.

You can be assured that you will be welcome in the CCYM club. We hope to see you there next term!

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

We are happy to say that International Relations club has become a more active organization

NOTICE TO VETERANS

All veterans who intend to continue their training in the Winter quarter at OCE must complete their registration on January 2, 1947. Interruption notices showing termination of training as of December 18, 1946, end of the Fall term, will be sent in on all veterans who do not re-enroll, to the Veterans Administration by January 4, 1947.

Latest Addition

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Harding are the parents of a baby girl, born at 3 a.m., Friday, December 13, at the Salem general hospital. This is their fourth child and first girl. Mr. Harding is a member of the English department at OCE.

Mother: "That's a good boy!"

Diggin' Rhythm

Here's the square again with the best bets in the music world. Some flash records are on the press today. The best jazz record of the month is a Signature record, "Sarcastic Lady," played by Eddie Heywood. This is one of an album. Others included are: "Night and Day," "Time on My Hands," "Sunny Side of the Street," and many other favorites. Another sizzler is "Housewarmin'," played in the inimitable style of Pete Johnson. Don Byas blows a flipover jump on "To Each His Own."

† † † †

On the swing side this week: Count Basie and his "Muttinleg," while Stan Kenton rips off a brand new thrill called "Intermission Riff." The new Roy Eldridge band has a solid record, both sides sizzling to "Tippin' Off," and "Hi Ho Trailus Bootwhip," a solid buy for only 57 cents—get it!

† † † †

For those of you who just like to dance, Claude Thornhill has waxed "It's a Pity to Say Good-night," Benny Goodman plays "My Blue Heaven," and Tommy Dorsey's "That's My Home" has a perfect rhythm.

† † † †

Vocals don't take much this week: Les Brown's, "The Best Man," sung by Butch Stone, is fair, and Dinah Shore dolls "Who'll Buy My Violets?"

† † † †

A reminder to those of you who appreciate music. The Downbeat, all-star band poll is open again. Cast a vote for your favorite musicians of 1946.

not be just an extra-curricular activity.

We now have a small group which will serve as a nucleus of future debate teams and it is desired to obtain debates with other schools if possible although most of the schedules are already underway. Ford Forster and Wendell Waldon will try to prove the affirmative side of the debate question: "Resolved, that labor should have a direct share in the management of industry." The negative side will be upheld by Josephine Davis and Bruce Nelson.

It is hoped for a good turnout in this new activity as this is one in which we can compete with schools of any size.

Rambling Remarks

The Christmas Spirit

I will, if you will,
Keep the spirit of Christmas in my heart,
And, barring out hurry, worry,
and
Competition, will concentrate the Blessed season, in joy and love,
To the one whose birth we Celebrate.

Santa Came Early

We have reason to believe that Santa Claus came early for three lucky girls. Susan Parkhurst, June Pangborn and Marge Campbell are the proud owners of diamond sparklers. (But we rather have reason to believe that it wasn't St. Nick who brought the rings to the girls.) Congratulations, and good luck to you!

A Glance Is Worth It

If anyone on the campus hasn't seen Todd hall's Christmas tree, he is missing something. It is one of the prettiest trees ever!

Grades?

Student: "Do you smoke, sir?"

Professor: "Why, yes, I'm very fond of a good cigar."

Student: "Do you drink, sir?"

Professor: "Yes, indeed. I enjoy nothing better than a bottle of wine."

Student: "Gee, It's going to cost me something to pass this course."

(Students: As a hint—do not try taking this attitude, even if it is close to Christmas!)

Christmas Carols

Just a note to assembly-skipper—semblies pass very rapidly when the time is spent in singing favorite Christmas carols.

Pre-Scheduling

Last week was the time that saw everyone pre-scheduling for next term's classes. We hope everyone is pleased with his program and will be ready to start the New Year right!

Lumber Profession

A popular soprano is said to have a voice of fine timbre, a willowy figure, cherry lips, chestnut hair and hazel eyes. (She must have been raised in the lumber regions.)

Yule Log Ceremony

Last Thursday evening was the highlight of the week for Christmas festivities. The yule log ceremony was a dignified event that will long be remembered.

Basketball

We would like to know the students' opinions on the outcome of basketball games that have been played lately. The players, at least, have the "ol' school spirit."

Suspicion

Wife: "Wretch, show me that letter!"

Husband: "What letter?"

Wife: "The one in your hand. It's from a woman, I can see by the writing, and you turned pale when you saw it."

Husband: "Yes, here it is. It's your dressmaker's bill."

Midnight Oil

As the old year is almost over and it is final examination time, don't feel that you have to cram! If you haven't studied this term, it is too late to begin now. Remember that at the new year, you can start afresh!

Faults

Women's faults are many

Men have only two;

Everything they say,

And everything they do.

Happy are we met; happy have we been,

Happy may we part, and happy meet again.

The Real Thing

by W. B. Stanley, Sports Editor

One of the most improved men on the OCE hoop five is "Curly" Mattison, the Woodburn lad. Mattison hasn't started many games, but the way he plays when he gets in the ball game, shows that he should crack that starting line-up one of these fine days.

Scoring 58 points against Clark J.C. and 56 on Vanport college, the Wolves at last are gaining confidence in their scoring ability. Marvin Hiebert, who has taken the injured Hamer's position, performed like a polished veteran in the Vanport contest. He is also the fastest man on the squad.

Ray Smith and his Monmouth Moles, second-placers in the local intramural league, went out of town and defeated Independence high school 22-13 Thursday evening. The game was played on the loser's floor. The high school scored but one field goal against the Moles' zone defense in the last half.

Wildcats Again Defeat OCE Five

Earl Cone, Linfield guard, tossed in 24 points to pace his team to a 57-38 triumph over the Wolves here Monday evening, December 9. It was the second time this season that the Wildcats have defeated the Monmouth five.

Coach Knox's lads matched the McMinnville quintet until the closing minutes of the first half when Linfield pulled ahead. The half-time score was 28-23 in favor of the visitors.

Cone turned on the steam in the final half, shooting one-handers with remarkable accuracy.

Sports Ladder Posted In Phys. Ed. Building

A newcomer to the intramural program is the sports ladder posted on the bulletin board in the physical education building. Instructions regarding this ladder are stated thereon.

It is set up for pingpong, handball, tennis and golf. Tennis and golf will probably not begin until spring term but the other two are scheduled for any time.

The top of the ladder is the number-one man in the school.
